

GENERALI OBLIGACJE: GLOBALNE RYNKI WSCHODZĄCE

Treasury bonds sub-fund

The investment objective of the sub-fund is a long-term increase in the value of assets as a result of investment value growth. Generali Obligacje: Globalne Rynki Wschodzące is the sub-fund of treasury bonds issued by developing countries. The sub-fund applies the rules and investment limitations for a closed-end investment fund. The sub-fund invests mainly in government bonds issued by developing countries, denominated primarily in local currencies. The sub-fund may also invest in derivatives and ETFs.

Sub-fund performance

— Sub-fund result

← Lower risk, prospects of lower profits      Higher risk, prospects of higher profits →

The discussed risk indicator is retrieved from Key Investor Information. The indicator is determined based on the historical volatility of the sub-fund's returns resulting from the investment policy implemented and may change in the future. Even the lowest risk category does not mean that the sub-fund is risk-free. Other risks associated with investing in a sub-fund that are not taken into account by the indicator are presented in the Key Investor Information and Fund Prospectuses.

Dictionary

Standard deviation – this ratio shows how risky the given fund is. The higher the ratio, the more volatile the price of a fund unit. This ratio is used to compare the risk of funds with a similar profile (e.g. equity funds).

Duration – this ratio shows the change in the value of the debt part of the fund in reaction to a change in interest rates. The higher the duration, the bigger effect of a change in interest rates on a change in the value of a fund unit i.e. the higher the risk connected with the same.

YTM – (yield to maturity) – this ratio shows the rate of return that investors obtain when buying a bond at the current market price and holding it in their portfolio until maturity.
