

GENERALI ZŁOTA

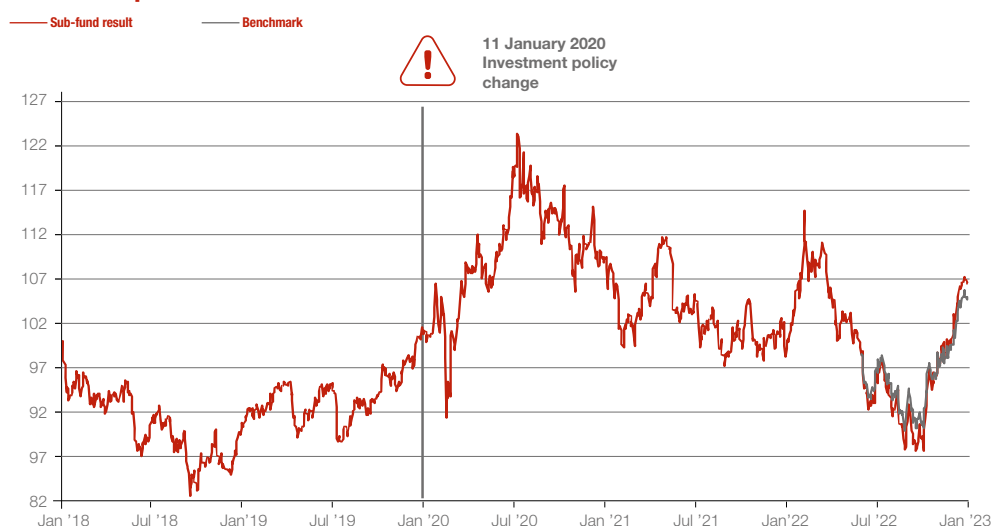

Commodity instruments sub-fund

The investment objective of the sub-fund is a long-term increase in the value of assets as a result of investment value growth. Generali Gold is a sub-fund with exposure to the price of gold denominated in US dollars. The sub-fund invests mainly in instruments with direct and indirect exposure to gold. The results of the sub-fund depend on the price of gold or other financial instruments issued by entities whose objects include gold exploration, mining, processing or trading. The sub-fund's portfolio mainly consists of such instruments as: gold exchange-traded commodities (ETC) classified as corporate debt instruments and exchange-traded funds (ETF), denominated in foreign currencies. In addition, the sub-fund may invest in stocks and other equity instruments. Some of its assets may be in the form of other categories of investments enumerated in the by-laws, in particular in the form of debt securities and money market instruments. The exchange rate risk is being hedged by transactions in foreign currency derivatives.

On January 11, 2020, the investment policy and the name of the fund changed. Old name of the fund – Generali Akcje Daleki Wschód.

Sub-fund performance vs. benchmark

Risk level

The presented percentage risk index is based on the Key Investor Information Document. The index is determined based on volatility of the equivalent of the value at risk (which relies on unit's historical prices) resulting from the adopted investment policy, and on the credit risk of the sub-fund. The index value may change. Even the lowest risk category does not mean that a given sub-fund is risk-free. The index does not include e.g.: liquidity risk, currency risk, contracting party risk, operational risk, sustainability risk or financial technique risk. The detailed description of risks associated with investing in a given sub-fund may be found in the prospectus available on www.generali-investments.pl.
